

Part-Time and Temporary Lecturers

The Department of Rhetoric and Writing Studies is accepting applications for its pool of part-time and temporary lecturers to teach one or more courses in the following areas:

Developmental Writing (for native speakers of English and for international/bilingual students), College Composition and Technical Writing. Minimum qualifications include a Master's degree in English, rhetoric, or linguistics, with teaching experience at the university level; experience in individualized instruction; sensitivity to underrepresented populations in the university preferred.

Salary commensurate with credentials and experience, according to University policy. Submit letter of application with curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Suzanne Bordelon, Department Chair, Department of Rhetoric and Writing Studies, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA 92182-0422.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

SDSU is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.