

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY

Part-Time and Temporary Lecturers Pool Announcement

School of Journalism and Media Studies | San Diego State University

The School of Journalism & Media Studies is accepting applications for its pool of part-time and temporary lecturers to teach across the undergraduate curriculum in the following specializations:

- * Advertising, including both skills-based and theory courses.
- * Media Studies, including the principles of media studies, media technology and society, and creative uses of emerging media.
- * Journalism, including both skills-based and theory courses.
- * Public Relations, including public relations writing (including digital/social media), principles of public relations, public relations capstone, and applied research in public relations.

Required Qualifications: Candidates should have earned a Bachelor's degree in journalism, mass communication or a communications-related field and relevant media and, have at least five years full-time professional experience.

Desired: Master's degree in journalism, mass communication and/or media studies with teaching experience at the university level; experience in individualized instruction; sensitivity to underrepresented populations in the university preferred.

Salary: Commensurate with credentials and experience, according to university policy. Submit letter of application with curriculum vitae, and a transcript of all graduate courses taken to:

Dr. Noah Arceneaux
Interim Director of the School of Journalism and Media Studies
San Diego State University

Email files to: noah.arceneaux@sdsu.edu

In Subject Heading, include: JMS LECTURER POSITION

SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

EO-1083 Mandated Reporter Statement: The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirement set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Background Statement: A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

EEO Statement: SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.