

V. Scope

In accordance with San Diego State University's policy of maintaining a safe working and learning environment, programs are in place that do not distinguish between students and employees. Deans are encouraged to incorporate safety-related subject matter into course curricula or other student activities within their colleges. However, the IIPP has been formally instituted in response to specific Cal/OSHA requirements for employee injury and illness prevention. Therefore, the IIPP applies to students only if they are also employed by the university. Employees of SDSU Auxiliaries are covered by the IIPP administered by the appropriate Auxiliary.
