

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

Part-Time Lecturers

Opportunities to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in a variety of public health subjects may be open any given semester, depending on the semester and the year. Typically the teaching opportunities include the following subject areas:

- Introduction to public health and public health core subjects
- Courses in public health program planning and evaluation
- Courses in human sexuality and sexually transmitted illnesses, including HIV/AIDs
- Specialty courses (e.g., Plagues Through the Ages)

A doctoral degree in Public Health or a related field with a Masters in Public Health is preferred. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Applicants should send a letter of inquiry and vita to Director, Graduate School of Public Health, San Diego State University, 5500 Campanile Drive, San Diego, CA 92182-4162.

SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

SDSU is seeking applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirement set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.